About Me

My journey in Design starts 10 years ago as a graphic designer, followed by a migration to UX Design in 2015.

Most of this career I have dedicated to the study and daily practice of User Experience and Interface Design disciplines, working on digital products, creating apps, websites, interfaces and designing experiences for many different products. In many projects, I was able to conduct Design Sprint, Product Discovery and Lean Inception, bringing more business value to each project.
